Weak Trees WARNING !

Forest Dept. identifies eight city roads with hazardous trees

MCC Commissioner assures prompt action

Interlock tiles laid close to trees on Vinoba Road without providing space for water percolation.

Mysuru, May 21 (PM, BS & BCT)- The Forest Department has directed the Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) to take immediate corrective action on multiple city roads where tree stems have been encased in concrete or interlocking tiles, leaving no space for water percolation — a practice that poses a serious threat to the survival of urban trees.

This intervention follows a series of reports published in Star of Mysore, where concerned citizens highlighted the unscientific execution of development works that have left trees smothered under layers of construction material, particularly along footpaths.

Residents have repeatedly voiced their concerns over the manner in which pedestrian pathways, underground drainage systems and other infrastructure projects have been carried out by the Mysuru City Corporation, compromising the health and longevity of trees.

On way to end his life, man turns burglar to pay fees for 20 students!

Bengaluru, May 21 (OSR)- In a twist straight out of a crime drama, the Byadarahalli Police in Bengaluru were left stunned when a 35-year-old serial home burglar claimed he turned to crime not for personal gain, but to fund the education of students from underprivileged families.

The accused, Shivu alias Shivarappan, a resident of Begur, was arrested along with a gang of five burglars. During interrogation, Shivu told the Police that he resorted to thefts to pay school and college fees for 20 students.

Shivu, a bachelor, is believed to be the mastermind of the gang, which also included his close associates Anil alias Jagga and Vivek.

According to the Police, Shivu was reportedly battling suicidal thoughts when he encountered friends struggling to pay their children's education fees. This, he said, inspired him to take a different course — albeit an illegal one.

He began carrying out a series of burglaries in Byadarahalli and nearby areas, selling stolen gold ornaments with the help of Anil and Vivek. The gang allegedly sold the gold in Tamil Nadu, where Shivu is said to have made around Rs. 22 lakh.

Of the total amount, Shivu gave Rs. 4 lakh to Vivek, purchased an autorickshaw worth Rs. 4 lakh for Anil, and used the remaining Rs. 14 lakh to fund the education of 20 students, according to his statement. Police say at least 11 cases have been registered against him.

The Byadarahalli Police are currently verifying Shivu's claims and have seized a 260-gram gold ingot worth Rs. 24 lakh from the accused.

Banu Mushtaq's 'Heart Lamp' wins

International Booker Prize 2025

First Kannada title to win prestigious prize

London, May 21 (Agencies)- In a historic moment for Indian literature, Heart Lamp, a short story collection by writer, activist and lawyer Banu Mushtaq, has become the first Kannada title to win the prestigious GBP 50,000 (Rs. 57.42 lakh) International Booker Prize.

The award was announced at a ceremony last night at London's Tate Modern, where Mushtaq accepted the honour alongside her translator, Deepa Bhasthi, who translated Mushtaq's Kannada book Haseena Mattu Itara Kathegalu to English, titled Heart Lamp.

According to the report, the collection, comprising 12 short stories, powerfully portrays the resilience, resistance, humour and solidarity of women in patriarchal communities in southern India. Drawing deeply from the oral storytelling traditions of the region, the stories span over three decades, written between 1990 and 2023.

"My stories are about women – how religion, society and politics demand unquestioning obedience from them, and in doing so, inflict inhumane cruelty upon them, turning them into mere subordinates. The daily incidents reported in the media and the personal experiences I have endured have been my inspiration. The pain, suffering, and helpless lives of these women create a deep emotional response within me, compelling me to write," said Banu Mushtaq.

Deepa Bhasthi is the first Indian translator — and ninth female translator — to win the prize since it took on its current form in 2016.

Mushtaq is the sixth female author to be awarded the prize since then.

While Deepa Bhasthi is a writer and literary translator based at Madikeri in Kodagu, Banu Mushtaq was born in Hassan in 1948.

"This book was born from the belief that no story is ever small, that in the tapestry of human experience every thread holds the weight of the whole," Mushtaq said in her acceptance speech.

Her translator, Deepa Bhasthi, added: "What a beautiful win this is for my beautiful language."

KEEPING MIND WORRY-FREE: If people load their minds with unwanted thoughts, their minds will become confused and agitated. Thanneerpalli Krishnan Swamy said there are three reasons for confusion to arise in our minds. Firstly, expecting results for those activities performed that are against the Sastras. Dhritarashtra became restive and sleepless on the Pandavas' completion of their stay in the forest, and they asked for their portion of the kingdom. Out of blind affection towards his son Duryodhana, the King was reluctant to part with them the kingdom. He asked Vidhura why he could not remain in peace and tranquillity. Vidhura replied that the King drifted away from the virtuous path. Secondly, people sometimes get confused when understanding and identifying what is righteous and what is not. Arjuna became confused at the beginning of the war and requested, "With my heart stricken by the fault, with my mind perplexed about my duty, I ask you, Lord Krishna, to advise what is good for me" — Chapter 2, Verse 7.

If more worries crop up, they lead to mental depression, which is the root cause of anxiety, sorrow, fear and debility. Lord Krishna says serenity of mind, benevolence, silence, self-control and purity of mind are the austerities of the mind — Chapter 17, Verse 16. Thirdly, even when we undertake activities as prescribed by the Sastras, we should not anticipate the fruits of the efforts. We should develop the thought that the actions are performed for God's sake and to please Him. The poor Kuchela, who desperately needed help, went to see Lord Krishna without any anticipation. Pleased with his true love and sincerity, the Lord showered him with all blessings and prosperity. — In The Hindu

You need a permit to wear high heels

California: The small city of Carmel-by-the-Sea is famous for requiring visitors to get an official permit in order to legally walk in heels higher than two inches.

Carmel-by-the-Sea's infamous high-heel permit sounds like an urban myth, but it's a real, official requirement in the Monterey city. If your heels are over two inches in height and have less than one square inch of bearing surface, it is illegal to wear them in public without first getting a permit from the city hall.

The permit is issued free of charge and many visitors get it simply as a souvenir, even if they don't plan on walking in heels. The certificate has every nice, official look, it is issued in the name of the person making the request and is signed by one of the city clerks on duty.

Interestingly, Carmel-by-the-Sea also had a law banning the consumption of ice cream within the downtown limits due to concerns of sticky sidewalks.

3,076 'Smurfs' come together to break record

Landerneau: A small town in France succeeded in its third Guinness World Record attempt by hosting a gathering of 3,076 people dressed as Smurfs.

The town of Landerneau, in France's Brittany region, had attempted the world record for the most people dressed as Smurfs twice before, but fell short of the record of 2,762 people, which was set in Germany in 2019.

The town made its third attempt Sunday with official backing from Paramount Pictures ahead of the release of the film Smurfs on July 18.

The Smurfs were created by Belgian cartoonist Pierre Culliford, aka Peyo, in 1958. They are called "Schtroumpfs" in French.

Server breakdown affects issuance of e-Khata, B-Khata

Service resumes today after a 4-day break

Mysuru, May 21 (RK&DM)- Even as the State Government announced introduction of e-Khata and B-Khata issuance with much pomp, the service (Issuance of e-Khata and B-Khatas) has been badly affected across the State due to breakdown of the main server at Bengaluru since the past four days.

e-Khata is an electronic database and document that serves as proof of property ownership. It is a digitised (electronic) version of the traditional Khata, providing an online record of property details, ownership and associated transactions. This digital system aims to enhance transparency, efficiency and reduce fraud in property dealings.

B-Khata refers to a property classification that stems from the term 'Khata,' which is essentially an account of record that includes details about a property's size, location and ownership. It is vital for property tax assessment and other civic services. The B-Khata emerged as a categorisation for properties that do not comply with the building by-laws or have deviations from approved plans.

MCC Zone-3 office staff issuing Khatas this afternoon.

According to sources in MCC, the server breakdown problem began on May 17 all across the State and has not been set right till now. The e-Swathu software, a centralised online platform created by the Karnataka Government to manage property and land records in rural areas, aims to streamline property transactions, prevent fraud and ensure transparency in land ownership. The platform allows citizens to access their property's e-Khata (Form-9) and other relevant documents online. This software in managed by National Information Centre (NIC) at Bengaluru.

The breakdown in the server with the collapse of the website and with literally no network connectivity since the past few days, has disappointed scores of citizens who are visiting the MCC, Town Panchayats, Municipal Corporations, other Local Bodies and Gram Panchayat offices across the district and the State daily for getting their e-Khata documents.

On their part, the Officials and staff at these offices are left wondering and kept waiting on when the technical glitches, network failure, website and server breakdown issues are properly and permanently addressed.

The NIC officials are said to be working overtime to address the technical glitches and server breakdown as the problem has to be seen right from the roots, it is learnt.

Meanwhile, with Chief Minister Siddaramaiah convening a two-day meeting of DCs and ZP CEOs of all districts at Bengaluru on May 30 and 31, for reviewing the progress and receive inputs on the status of e-Khatas and B-Khatas issuance, the officials are a worried lot as they are unable to clear files and upload the status on the website due to complete breakdown of server.

With the issuance of e-Khatas coming to a standstill at City Corporations and all other Local Bodies, the citizens are getting anxious about getting their documents. The breakdown has also resulted in huge revenue loss to the Government. However, according to latest reports, the service has resumed this afternoon.

Rain fury: MCC ready with precautions

Mysuru, May 21 (PM&BS)- In the wake of intermittent rainfall with weatherman forecasting early arrival of monsoon this year, Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) is leaving no stone unturned to gear up to face the situation effectively.

As a precaution, the works are underway to desilt storm water drains and remove the weeds and shrubs to facilitate the free flow of rain water. Similar plans will be extended to residential areas, where storm water drains will be cleaned and the tree branches in precarious conditions shall be removed.

Several teams have been formed and entrusted with responsibility to clear the trees that uproot due to heavy wind and restore the electricity lines that are damaged due to rain.

MCC Commissioner Shaikh Tanveer Asif told Star of Mysore that the City Corporation is fully prepared to face any situation that may erupt during rains. The works related to removal of silt and weed from Raja Kaluves (big storm water drains) began in February itself and 90% of the works are completed, with pending 10% works to be completed in the next 10 days.

Action will be taken for cleaning the storm water drains at residential areas in each of the Wards in 15 days, added the MCC Commissioner.

In a coordinated manner, the Forest Department and Police will be involved in cutting the tree branches that pose danger in public places. Barring those trees that are considered as weak, the other trees will not be removed fully. Any decisions shall be in compliance with nature. While the works are underway to clear the tree branches that have been already cut, which may intensify this month.

In the event of any electricity line related complaints in the night, a team has been formed to attend to such complaints. To take up the works on removal of tree branches on a war-footing, the Civil Engineers have been deputed along with Abhaya and Horticulture Division staff of MCC, with weatherman predicting heavy rain.

Measures have been also taken towards effective maintenance of UGD network, by keeping it intact, to prevent the possibilities of overflowing during rain, said MCC Commissioner Asif.

Health awareness

MCC in association with Health and Family Welfare Department, will launch an awareness drive about Malaria and Dengue cases, to educate the people on keeping the surroundings of the house clean, by preventing the stagnation of water.

The Pourakarmikas, engaged in door-to-door garbage collection will be involved in awareness drive. They will be providing the information related to precautions, by using the microphone attached to auto tippers deployed to collect garbage.

The fogging will be undertaken to control mosquitoes, with preliminary arrangements being made in this regard.

VOICE OF THE READER

Road near Automotive Axles pathetic, unsafe

Sir,

For nearly a decade, I have been a regular reader of Star of Mysore eveninger, and I particularly appreciate the 'Voice of the Reader' column, which brings public concerns and grievances to light — issues that genuinely deserve everyone's attention.

Around six months ago, an article was published about the poor condition of the road near Automotive Axles Limited. I use this stretch for my daily commute, and unfortunately, the road remains in a deplorable state.

The photos I took yesterday clearly show how the recent rains have further worsened the situation, creating large potholes that pose serious challenges and risks to commuters.

The stretch from the BEML Factory to Hootagalli Signal is in an alarming state of disrepair. It is deeply concerning to recall that just 2 - 3 months ago, a Government employee tragically lost her life due to the hazardous condition of this very road. I fear more such incidents may occur if immediate steps are not taken.

As a responsible citizen, I urge the authorities concerned to take swift and effective action to reconstruct this road using high-quality materials to ensure long-term safety and durability.

She has authored six short-story collections, a novel, a book of essays and a volume of poetry. Her acclaimed short story 'Kari Nagaragalu' was adapted into the 2003 film 'Hasina'.

A vital voice in Karnataka's Bandaya Sahitya (Rebel Literature) movement during the 1970s and 1980s, Banu Mushtaq emerged as one of the few prominent women writers.

Weak Trees warning !

In a press release, the office of the Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF), Mysuru Division, stated: "Tree growth has been adversely affected in areas where footpath works, underground drainage (UGD) installation, and other basic infrastructure projects have been undertaken within the MCC's jurisdiction. In line with National Green Tribunal (NGT) directives — particularly in the case of Sahil Garg v/s State of Punjab & Others — such development must accommodate tree health."

During a field inspection, the Forest Department found that many stretches lacked even a one-metre buffer around tree bases to allow water percolation. This denial of vital root-zone space severely impacts tree health and threatens urban green cover.

Following the findings, the DCF's office notified the MCC Commissioner, who has reportedly assured that the lapses will be rectified and steps will be taken to conserve affected trees.

Identified hazard zones

The Forest Department identified several road stretches where tree stems have been encased in concrete or tiles, including a 1.6-km stretch of Bengaluru-Nilgiri Road from Five Lights Circle to Fountain Circle; 3.09 km of New Sayyaji Rao Road from Highway Circle to K.R. Hospital (Government Ayurveda College Circle); 630 metres of Dewan's Road; 4.01 km of Vinoba Road; 600 metres of Irwin Road; 170 metres of Bogadi Road; 840 metres from Sri Ramakrishna Paramahamsa Circle to Aniketana Road on Vishwamanava Double Road; and an additional 50-metre stretch on the same road in Kuvempunagar.

The Forest Department has urged the MCC to urgently redesign these areas in accordance with ecological guidelines and sustainable urban development practices.

Karnataka hands over four jumbos to Andhra Pradesh

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy CM D.K. Shivakumar handing over the bag containing documents of transfer of elephants to Andhra Pradesh Deputy CM Pawan Kalyan in Bengaluru this noon as Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre looks on.

Bengaluru, May 21- In a formal ceremony held this noon in front of Vidhana Soudha, the Karnataka Government handed over four tamed elephants to Andhra Pradesh as part of an inter-State agreement on wildlife management and conservation.

Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy Chief Minister D.K. Shivakumar officially handed over the elephants to Andhra Pradesh Deputy Chief Minister Pawan Kalyan. Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre, Health and Family Welfare Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao, senior Forest Department officials, and other dignitaries were present at the event.

Of the four elephants, two are from the Dubare Elephant Camp in Kodagu and two from the Sakkarebailu Elephant Camp in Shivamogga.

This transfer is part of a larger agreement signed between Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Kerala during the international conference on elephant-human conflict held in Bengaluru in August last year.

The agreement aims to foster cooperation in areas such as elephant capture operations, anti-poaching measures, and training of forest personnel.

On Aug. 8, 2023, during a visit to Bengaluru, Pawan Kalyan had requested Karnataka's support in tackling poaching and enhancing the capabilities of Andhra Pradesh's Forest Department. Following this, a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) was signed during a Karnataka delegation's visit to Vijayawada on Sept. 27.

Today's handover marks a key milestone in that agreement, as Karnataka formally transfers the trained elephants to aid Andhra Pradesh's conservation efforts.

ED raids institutions owned by Home Minister Dr. G. Parameshwar

Bengaluru, May 21 (Agencies): In a coordinated operation this morning, officials from the Enforcement Directorate (ED) conducted surprise raids at several educational institutions owned by Karnataka Home Minister Dr. G. Parameshwar.

Around 30 ED personnel, split into multiple teams, carried out searches at Sri Siddhartha Medical College and Sri Siddhartha Institute of Technology (SSIT) in Tumakuru, as well as at Sri Siddhartha Institute of Medical Sciences near T. Begur in Nelamangala, on the outskirts of Bengaluru.

These institutions are run by the Sri Siddhartha Academy of Higher Education (a Deemed-to-be University), of which Dr. Parameshwar serves as the Chancellor.

While an official statement from the ED is awaited, sources suggest that the raids may be linked to suspected irregularities in funding, particularly after the recent acquisition of a defunct engineering college in Tumakuru by SSIT.

Link to actress Ranya Rao?

Speculation is rife that the raid could also have a connection to Kannada actress Ranya Rao, who was arrested in March by the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) on charges of gold smuggling at Kempegowda International Airport in Bengaluru.

She is currently in judicial custody at Parappana Agrahara Central Prison. Reports suggest she may have had financial interests in the Siddhartha institutions, though this is yet to be officially confirmed.

It may be recalled that in October 2019, Income Tax sleuths had also conducted searches at these institutions based on complaints of undisclosed cash transactions.

Reacting to the development, Deputy Chief Minister and KPCC President D.K. Shivakumar expressed surprise at the ED raids. He refrained from offering detailed comments, stating he would respond after obtaining full information.

Proposed Amusement and Theme Park at KRS

High Court issues notices to State, Central Governments

Five farmers from Mandya file PIL opposing the project

Bengaluru/Mandya, May 21 (VNS&MR) - The Vacation Division Bench of Karnataka High Court (HC) headed by Justice B.M. Shyamprasad has issued notices to both State and Central Government against notification calling tender for the proposed Amusement and Theme Park (Entertainment Park).

The HC Bench heard the Public Interest Litigation (PIL) filed by farmers led by K. Boraiah of Gopalpura, Mandya on Tuesday.

Senior Advocate M. Shivaprakash, appearing for applicants, in his arguments stated that the proposed Amusement and Theme Park would have adverse affect on KRS dam which has been the lifeline for lakhs of farmers and requested the High Court to issue a stay order on the call for tender until a final order on the issue was passed by Court.

On hearing the argument, the High Court Division Bench allowed the PIL and instructed Advocate representing the Government to submit the modalities of the project being floated in the tender through PPP Model during the next hearing.

Later, the High Court Bench issued notices to 17 defendants including the Secretary, Union Ministry of Jal Shakthi, National Dam Safety Authority (NDSA) Chairman and Chief Secretary, Government of Karnataka before posting the hearing for June 9.

The PIL stated that the construction of amusement and theme park at KRS would not only cause safety issue of the dam but acquisition of fertile 198-acre agricultural land would have an adverse effect on the farmers and cause ecological imbalance.

"The tender is unilateral. The State Government has not taken approval from National Dam Safety Authority and moreover the State Government has not brought to notice of the public regarding the pros and cons of the project," said the PIL.

It may be recalled that State Government during September and December 2024 has floated tender notification twice. However, it received no response. The project was also severely opposed by farmers and local residents. Now, the Government has floated another tender notification for Rs. 2615.96 crore in name of developing Brindavan Garden.

THE LIGHTER SIDE

By Dr. R. Balasubramaniam

The Art of Forgetting:

A Survival Guide for the Name-Challenged

Aging is a wonderful journey — one that comes with wisdom, experience and, most importantly, the ability to completely forget someone's name the second they walk away. It's not that I don't care. I do. It's just that my brain, once a powerful machine of recall, now behaves more like a distracted intern who forgets to take notes.

Every day, I meet new people. Every day, I forget new people. Their faces seem vaguely familiar, their smiles warm and their enthusiasm in greeting me suggests we've had meaningful conversations before. And yet, I find myself stuck in a recurring scene of a play I don't remember auditioning for.

The art of pretending to remember

Over time, I have mastered the delicate art of faking recognition. The key is to look engaged while my mind frantically searches its archives, which, by the way, resembles a poorly organised library where all the books have fallen off the shelves.

1. The confident nod: If someone walks up and greets me like an old friend, I nod in return, exuding an air of familiarity. The trick is to look like I was just about to say their name — but was interrupted by fate (or, more accurately, my own memory failure).

2. The classic "How have you been?": This is my go-to. It is broad, non-committal and forces the other person to supply clues about our last meeting. If I'm lucky, they'll drop enough hints for me to piece together the mystery.

3. The reverse introduction: This is when I introduce them to someone else first, hoping they'll say their own name. Of course, this backfires if my companion also expects me to remember the name, leading to an awkward moment of mutual amnesia.

Coping strategies for the future

As I anticipate my memory challenges only increasing, I have devised some foolproof (or at least moderately effective) strategies to survive social interactions.

1. The name whisperer: I might hire a discreet assistant to stand behind me and subtly whisper people's names into my ear. This could get expensive, but it's worth considering.

2. The universal greeting: I plan to call everyone "My Friend." It's warm, inclusive and, most importantly, prevents any name-related disasters.

3. The selective memory defence: If caught forgetting someone's name, I will simply shake my head and say, "Ah, you know, ever since my deep study on the impact of modern distractions on human memory, I've been testing myself. You, of course, are an advanced challenge."

4. The emergency phone trick: I'll pretend to receive an urgent call whenever I see someone approaching whose name is lost in the abyss. By the time I return, hopefully, someone else will have said their name.

5. The honest approach: If all else fails, I might just admit, "I'm so sorry, my memory is terrible these days. Could you remind me of your name?" Of course, this works only once per person before they start taking it personally.

Aging may come with a few challenges, but with a bit of strategy, humour and a well-rehearsed smile, I plan to navigate the sea of forgotten names with dignity. And if you see me and I look slightly confused — just assume I'm processing highly important information. Or trying to remember if we've met before.

WORD OF THE DAY

Chagrin

Pronunciation: shuh-GRIN (noun).
Meaning: Chagrin refers to a feeling of frustration or annoyance caused by failure or disappointment.
Origin: Despite what its second syllable may lead one to believe, chagrin has nothing to do with grinning or amusement — quite the opposite, in fact. Chagrin, which almost always appears in phrases such as "to his/her/their chagrin," refers to the distress one feels following a humiliation, disappointment, or failure. Perhaps unsurprisingly, the word's French ancestor, the adjective chagrin, means "sad." What may be surprising is that the noun form of the French chagrin, meaning "sorrow" or "grief," can also refer to a rough, untanned leather (and is itself a modification of the Turkish word sağrı, meaning "leather from the rump of a horse"). This chagrin gave English the word shagreen, which can refer to such leather, or to the rough skin of various sharks and rays.
Example: "Hundreds of fans decked out in Dodger blue crammed into Tokyo Haneda Airport's arrival hall dreaming of pointing at and snapping a photo of the team or their favorite player. To their chagrin, the airport constructed partitions that blocked any view of the squad." — Andrew J. Campa, The Los Angeles Times, 16 Mar. 2025.

THE ODD WORD

Caespitose

Growing in clusters or tufts.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Come Hell or High Water

Meaning: When you say 'Come Hell or High Water' you mean that you are willing to do whatever it takes to overcome difficulty or obstacles.
Origin: The expression 'Come Hell or High Water' originated in America. The first printed reference comes from an Iowa newspaper, The Burlington Weekly Hawk Eye, dated May 1882: "Since that time the best of my friends had become enemies and strangers have become friends. The devil had broke loose in many parts of the country and keeping up with the old saying, we've had unrevised hell and high water, and a mighty heap of high water, I tell you."
Example: "I'm going to make it to dance on Saturday, come hell or high water!"

QUOTE BOX

Human nature is like water. It takes the shape of its container.

— Wallace Stevens
